

Tap and Die Threading Set

This comprehensive tap and die set is designed for creating and repairing internal and external threads. The set includes a variety of taps and dies made from high-quality steel, along with tap wrenches and die stocks for easy and accurate threading.

Product Overview

Professional Threading Solution

This comprehensive tap and die set is engineered for creating and repairing both internal and external threads with high precision. Crafted from durable, high-quality steel, it is designed to maintain cutting integrity over repeated use. The collection is versatile enough for threading operations across various materials, including metal, plastic, and wood.

Technical Details

Included Components

- Taps for internal threading
- Dies for external threading
- Tap wrenches
- Die stocks

Compatible Materials	Metal, Plastic, Wood
Material	High-quality steel