

Three-Pin Plug Extension Cord

This is a standard extension cord with a three-pin plug and matching socket. The white cord is suitable for extending the reach of electrical devices in various applications.

Product Overview

General Purpose Extension Lead

This standard three-pin plug extension cord is designed for reliable power connectivity in general-purpose electrical applications. Featuring a durable white cable construction, it provides a convenient and safe solution for extending the reach of your electrical devices. Ideal for home, office, or light commercial environments requiring standard Australian socket compatibility.

Technical Specifications

Cable Color

White

Plug Configuration

Three-pin (Australian Standard)

Application

General Purpose, Indoor Use, Electrical Extension