

Touch Screen TV PC

This touch screen TV PC combines television functionality with PC capabilities. It features an integrated touch display, speakers, and control knobs for user interaction.

Product Overview

Integrated Touch Interface Solution

The L1101 series is a versatile electronics information product that combines the capabilities of a high-definition television with a full-featured personal computer. Designed for interactive use, the built-in touch screen interface allows for intuitive control across various professional and entertainment applications. The unit features integrated audio solutions and ergonomic physical control knobs, ensuring a seamless user experience in diverse environments.

Key Features

System Functionality	Integrated PC, Touch Screen Display, Television Functionality, Integrated Speakers
----------------------	--

Hardware Details

Control Interface

- Touch screen digitizer
- Integrated physical control knobs

Model Number	L1101
--------------	-------