

Urban Commuter Motorcycle

This motorcycle is a practical and economical choice for urban commuting and everyday use. Its lightweight construction and nimble handling make it ideal for navigating congested streets.

Overview

Urban Commuter Motorcycle

The HN100-4 is a practical and economical motorcycle specifically engineered for urban commuting and everyday reliability. Designed with a step-through frame for easy mounting and a nimble, lightweight construction, it excels at navigating congested city streets. This cost-effective solution combines fuel efficiency with essential safety features, making it a dependable choice for daily transportation.

Key Features

Design Highlights

Step-through frame, Lightweight, Front basket included, Fuel-efficient

Performance & Safety

Safety Equipment

- Front braking system
- Rear braking system
- Integrated lighting

Engine Reliability

Reliable Engine • City Traffic Optimized