

USB to 1/4" Mono Guitar Cable, 10ft

This 10-foot USB guitar cable features a USB 2.0 interface on one end and a 6.35mm (1/4") mono TS male connector on the other. The cable is designed for connecting electric guitars directly to a computer for recording and singing applications.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Professional Recording Interface Cable

This 10ft USB guitar cable acts as a direct audio interface, converting analog signals from electric guitars and instruments into high-quality digital audio for your computer. Designed for seamless recording and singing applications, it offers a reliable, low-noise connection suitable for both studio environments and live performances. With its plug-and-play functionality, this cable provides an efficient solution for musicians looking to connect their instruments directly to recording software.

Technical Specifications

Performance Features

- Plug-and-play compatibility
- Low-noise signal transmission
- High-grade audio conversion
- Robust construction

Ideal Applications

Studio Recording • Live Performance • Digital Singing

Cable Length

10 ft

Connectors

USB 2.0, 6.35mm (1/4") Mono TS Male