

Variable Temperature Hot Air Gun Kit

This hot air gun kit is designed for stripping paint, removing decals, and shrinking wire wraps. It features two heat settings to accommodate a variety of jobs with rapid heating.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Versatile Variable Temperature Hot Air Gun

The PLD2190 is a high-performance heat gun designed for professional and DIY applications including paint stripping, varnish removal, and thawing frozen pipes. Featuring a superior coil design, it heats materials more quickly than standard alternatives, ensuring efficiency across various tasks. With two integrated heat and airflow settings, this tool provides the control needed for delicate work like shrinking wire wraps or heavy-duty jobs like loosening rusted fittings.

Model Number

PLD2190

Technical Performance

Comprehensive technical data for the PLD series heat guns, highlighting the PLD2190 performance specs.

Rated Power

2000 W

Operating Voltage

220-240V

Frequency

50 Hz

Operating Modes

Comparison of different power ratings and temperature ranges across the professional tool lineup.

Operating Settings

Setting	Temperature	Air Flow
Setting I	450°C	300 L/M
Setting II	600°C	500 L/M

Key Features

Design Features

- 2 Heat settings for task versatility
- Hanging hook for easy storage
- Stationary use capability
- Ergonomic handle design

Safety & Protection

Over-heat Protection, Superior Coil Design

Applications

Ideal Applications

Paint Stripping • Varnish Removal • Decal Removal • Wire Wrapping • Pipe Thawing • Loosening Fittings