

VoIP Softswitch for IP Communication Systems

This softswitch is a business-class telephone designed for use with IP-based communication systems. It supports standard telephony features such as call waiting, call forwarding, and conference calling.

Product Overview

Professional Communication Solution

The Softswitch Blackone is a robust, business-class telephone engineered for modern IP-based communication systems. Designed with an ergonomic build, this device facilitates seamless office connectivity through advanced call management features and a user-friendly interface. It supports essential telephony operations like conference calling, forwarding, and call waiting, making it a reliable choice for demanding professional environments.

Technical Features

Supported Features

- Call Waiting
- Call Forwarding
- Conference Calling
- Hands-free Speakerphone
- Speed Dialing

Platform Compatibility

VoIP Platform Compatible, IP-based Systems

Design and Interface

Device Specifications

Feature	Description
Display	Multi-line display
Controls	Programmable buttons
Build	Ergonomic and robust