

Wall-Mounted Group Telephone

This wall-mounted telephone system is designed for group use. It features a rectangular enclosure with ventilation grilles and a central button, suitable for office or small business environments for internal and external communication.

Product Overview

Professional Group Telephone System

The WS824 wall-mounted telephone system is engineered for efficient group communication in office or small business settings. It features a robust, rectangular enclosure with integrated ventilation for reliable performance during continuous use. Designed for easy installation, this unit streamlines internal and external voice connectivity.

Technical Specifications

Model ID	WS824
Communication Type	Group Phoning System

Physical Characteristics

Mounting Type	Wall-mounted
Design Features	Rectangular enclosure, Ventilation grilles

Functionality

Suitable Environments

- Corporate offices
- Small business environments

User Interface	Central button operation
----------------	--------------------------