

Window Air Conditioner for Room Cooling

This compact air conditioner is designed for cooling individual rooms. It features adjustable louvers for directing airflow, a digital display for temperature settings, and user-friendly controls.

Product Overview

Compact Cooling Solution

This window-type air conditioner is expertly engineered to provide efficient cooling for individual rooms. It features a streamlined design that allows for simple installation in standard window openings. With user-friendly controls and adjustable airflow, it offers a reliable climate control solution for professional or residential spaces.

Performance Metrics

Cooling Performance

35 Grade

Cooling Rating

Technical Specifications

Design Features

- Compact form factor
- Adjustable airflow louvers
- Intuitive control panel

Installation Type

Window-mounted

Interface

Digital Display, Adjustable Louvers